MAKING A DIRECT IMPACT ON LOCAL COMMUNITIES

PROVIDING AUTHENTIC CULTURAL EXCHANGES

SHARING THE TREASURES OF ECUADOR!

Join Nested on its annual medical mission to Ecuador in partnership with the non-profit organization, Partners for Andean Community Health (PACH). Volunteers will participate alongside FIBUSPAM staff on mobile medical clinics for underserved indigenous communities in rural Ecuador. Volunteers play an important role in the medical caravans, while gaining a unique cross-cultural experience. Roles can include prescribing and distributing reading glasses, providing dental education to children, and supporting community projects. No medical experience nor Spanish language abilities is needed to volunteer!

ABOUT US

PACH's mission is to foster sustainable health care systems and communities in Andean Ecuador by providing education, resources, and enduring solutions through supporting its Ecuadorian non-profit clinic, Fundacion Internacional Buen Samaritano Paul Martel (FIBUSPAM).

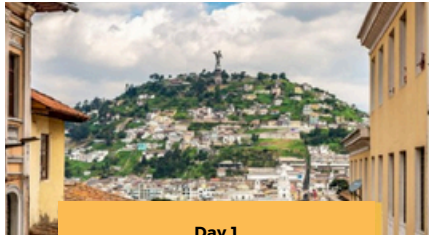

Nested Health was founded by Nidhi Reva, MPH, PA-C to provide holistic educational experiences focused on preparing expectant families & share life-saving skills to build healthy communities. Nested empowers women and their families, both locally and abroad, by providing them with childbirth and newborn care education as well as invaluable medical and public health resources.
